

Epistemological- Cosmological symmetry in the Bright Way

There is a symmetry between cosmology and epistemology in the Bright Way. A species' noosphere is paired with the epistemological Realm of the Known, the physical universe with the Realm of the Knowable, and the Emyrean with the Realm of the Unknowable.

Further, since the Uncreated Light does not occupy a single point in space, it is often said that the Emyrean IS the Uncreated Light. The souls of the blessed don't so much dwell in the Emyrean as unite themselves with the Light. The universe is an N-dimensional region embedded within the N+1 (or N+M) dimensions of the Emyrean, replacing N with however many dimensions quantum mechanics/relativity says the universe has.
